End of Sales Announcement: NET IMPRESS AF2xx/AF1xx Series

Yokogawa Digital Computer announces that the end of sales ("EOS") of the products listed below as of March 31, 2007.

These products have been well received and successfully used since their release in 1998. However, it has become very difficult to obtain their major components and we have regretfully come to the decision to end their production in such circumstances.

Customers will continue to receive the maintenance (repair) services for a minimum of five years following the EOS date. Also, customers are encouraged to migrate to the MegaNETIMPRESS (AF420/320) series and C"arNETIMPRESS (AF620/520 series), which are the successor models of the EOS products although these products remain available until March 31, 2007.
